SEI Special Order No. 2018.277
Series of 2018

SUBJECT: Designation of SEI Personnel for the Conduct of the Women Inspiring Women Forum

The Department of Science and Technology will be celebrating the 2018 National Science and Technology Week on July 17 to 21 at the World Trade Center to showcase the various scientific and technological advances in the Philippines. With the theme "Innovation for Collective Prosperity" the event intends to increase the awareness on the scientific progress of the country amongst its citizens.

The DOST-Science Education Institute, the country's science and technology human resource development agency, will be conducting an event that seeks to inspire female DOST scholars and students to excel in their chosen courses and careers. Entitled "Women Inspiring Women Forum," the event will gather the country's successful female scientists and science professionals to ignite their interest to pursue excellence in their chosen courses and careers. It will be held on July 20, 2018, 1:00 – 5:00 PM, at the Meeting Room 2 of the Philippine International Convention Center, Pasay City.

For the successful conduct of this event, the following SEI personnel are hereby assigned to undertake the said activities:
